Touchdown on Mars

By Drew Goddard   Apr. 7, 2017

Mark Watney (Matt Damon) has one heck of a journey ahead of him

On April 7, after a journey lasting more than 8 months, Mark Watney carefully settled down onto the surface of Mars. He is leading a science lab experiment. Its mission: to search for evidence that the Red Planet might once have hosted life — even if the organisms were only one-celled microbes.

The first stage of this mission — the landing — is "an amazing achievement," observes Charles

PROVIDENCE DOWNTOWN

Presenting a Strong Portfolio
By Weston Schrode | Apr. 3, 2017

Every year representatives from more than 130 companies looking to hire creative talent participate in RISD Careers' Design Portfolio Review at the Rhode Island Convention Center. But as junior Na Snidvongs 18 GD points out, their primary goal is less to recruit than to share their expertise
